Quincy, June 19, 1849.

DEAR FRIEND—Nothing would gratify me more than to attend the celebration at Cleveland, to which you are kind enough to request me to attend. I will, however, have with my good wishes...

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS. Messrs. J. C. VAUGHAN & Co., Committee.

Boston, July 10th, 1849.

I went could join the friends of the Reserve in celebrating the anniversary of the adoption here of the country of the great ordinance of freedom. But on account of the late season of the city, I am unable to do so.

Let us strive, with united voice, to extend the beautiful Ordinance of Freedom to every clime and every tongue. So doing, let us borrow from original authors something of their devotion to its great conservative...

The Federal Government has been for a long time controlled by the slaveholders. Let us be the high duty, worthy of freedom, to place the government under the auspices of the people.

In this work, we shall give a full and complete account of the efforts of the friends of the cause in every State and Territory of the North, who are engaged in the noble work of the Republic.

POETRY.

BY HERBIEB BURNHAM.

CONSERVATIVE.
This agitation—
It is so terrible so
Where shall I flee?
It agitates me,
So very loud and high—
Oh dear! Ah me!
The times are shocking bad—
For men are running mad,
And throwing stones,
These agitators are
Responsible, (I ever hear)
For every single tear.
The nation's
Hiss, man! where do you find
The right to spout your mind?
To vent your spleen?
What's the right, what's the end,
It makes me tremble so,
That scarcely do you know
What's the right, what's the end,
If you're so angry, are bad,
If you're so angry, are bad,
And who is sane!
Murder is in your heart,
You just for me the dart,
And with your every act,
Supply the want.

IT IS NO DREAM.
BY HARRI DREHM.
It is no dream—yet still that is fulfilled,
The nations yet—ah! how they might,
Love earth, its heaven, its sun, its soil,
And light progressive rose in morning light,
As law's suffering shall diminish by,
Which would be the best of all,
That all must live in love, with faith would see,
The kingdom of the Lord established here.

IT IS NO DREAM—THE PURER SPIRIT-LIFE.
The innate consciousness of inward strength,
Which precedes in the human heart its life,
And gives to weakness power to rise at length,
And struggle onward towards its endless aim,
Even though the crowd to slavery will be led,
And many, by his own and death, proclaim
Truth, by which nations may to life ascend.

THE KINGDOM OF GOD ON EARTH IS AT HAND.
The nations' hatred, scorn, and doubt's deep gloom,
Which would be the best of all,
All that is written, seem and shall be fulfilled—
All that the Son of Man consoling spoke,
The Eastern Star is already lighted,
Men shall as brethren live, and see his yoke;
From Eden, which her trail has soiled long laid,
And where as sovereigns also the keys has held
Which will be the best of all,
Men are no longer wayward by devilish feet,
The hours draw nigh—and be their spirit increased,
The Nameless yore doctrine shall all heart,
And the pure kingdom of God on earth be led,
Love's spirit, glittering in its own pure light,
Appears—and shall and live shall to light!
And then shall God be known and served aright.

VERSES EXPATIATED.
BY JAMES WELLSMAN.
Fill in, my 30 feetmen, with the
To wear one link of slavery's chain—
Whom others all are broke—
Why are your colored brethren still
Bound to the low and degrading
And great beneath the yoke?
Yours is the power, but they have right,
Yours is the day, but they have night,
'Alas! what hope, what future,
Gull water, spreading the fearful thought,
Painting the coming future, fraught
With shadows dark and strange.
Oh! ye who love to sense of shame!
That is no justice, but to die,
Must nature finally all,
Still will your freedom's treasures clutch,
Bursting millions ere to touch,
Though night is born in all!

Dr. Andral, of Paris, has communicated to the Academy of Sciences the following interesting observations on the connection between the cholera and electricity, which appears to be a new discovery.

PARIS, June 10, 1849.
Throughout the various courses of the ravages of the cholera in August, 1848, the following observations were made:—In a number of cases, the cholera was preceded by a violent electric storm, which was accompanied by a strong magnetic current.

It is, therefore, earnestly recommended, that the President of the United States should cause to be published a public report on this subject, and that he should recommend to the public to observe the signs of the cholera, and to take the necessary precautions to avoid its contagion.

From the North Traveller.
PRESIDENT TAYLOR AND THE CHOLERA.
The Proclamation of President Taylor for a day of humiliation and prayer on account of the ravages of the cholera in our country, has given great satisfaction to a large portion of the people.

It is a Christian land, and the great body of the people believe in a Providence, in which the will of God is manifested in the destinies of men. To all this, the President's Proclamation is an express acknowledgment on the part of the head of our nation of the existence and provident government of God.

This acknowledgment is in itself a great blessing to the people, and a source of comfort to the afflicted. It is a recognition of the fact that the cholera is a scourge sent from heaven, and that it is the duty of the people to humble themselves before God, and to seek his mercy and forgiveness.

Dr. Andral, of Paris, has communicated to the Academy of Sciences the following interesting observations on the connection between the cholera and electricity, which appears to be a new discovery.

PARIS, June 10, 1849.
Throughout the various courses of the ravages of the cholera in August, 1848, the following observations were made:—In a number of cases, the cholera was preceded by a violent electric storm, which was accompanied by a strong magnetic current.

It is, therefore, earnestly recommended, that the President of the United States should cause to be published a public report on this subject, and that he should recommend to the public to observe the signs of the cholera, and to take the necessary precautions to avoid its contagion.

PRESIDENT TAYLOR AND THE CHOLERA.
The Proclamation of President Taylor for a day of humiliation and prayer on account of the ravages of the cholera in our country, has given great satisfaction to a large portion of the people.

It is a Christian land, and the great body of the people believe in a Providence, in which the will of God is manifested in the destinies of men. To all this, the President's Proclamation is an express acknowledgment on the part of the head of our nation of the existence and provident government of God.

This acknowledgment is in itself a great blessing to the people, and a source of comfort to the afflicted. It is a recognition of the fact that the cholera is a scourge sent from heaven, and that it is the duty of the people to humble themselves before God, and to seek his mercy and forgiveness.

CLOTHING
NEW STORE,
No. 107, Cambridge Street,
LEWIS HAYDEN.

WHICH is well remembered, was formerly the property of the late Mr. Lewis Hayden, and kept a good assortment of CLOTHING, of superior quality. It is true that it is a new store, but it is well known that it is a new store, and that it is well known that it is a new store, and that it is well known that it is a new store.
