

EVERY FRIDAY MORNING, WASHINGTON STREET, ROOM NO. 6.

TERMS - Three dollars per annum, in advance. For a copy will be sent to one address for the year, if payment is made in advance.

WM. LLOYD GARRISON, Editor.

VOL. XXXIV. NO. 39. BOSTON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1864. WHOLE NO. 1755.

Our Country is the World, our Countrymen are all Mankind.

Proclaim Liberty throughout all the land, to all the inhabitants thereof.

J. B. YERRINGTON & SON, Printers.

Refuge of Oppression.

VALLANDIGHAM'S ACCOUNT OF HIS STEWARDSHIP.

[A speech delivered at a Democratic Ratification Meeting in Dayton, Ohio, Sept. 7th.]

FELLOW CITIZENS:—Without further ceremony, I propose to address you briefly on the subject to which you have assembled here to-night.

I suggest that I should reply to the harangue made the other night here by Robert C. Schenck. I beg leave most respectfully to decline. These questions in which you are all so deeply interested, in common with the whole country, are of too great magnitude to justify me in consuming your time in the discussion of anything which fell from his lips.

As to the personality, I would at no time take occasion to reply. It belongs to that class of mere verbal abuse, or the end of this war, will be consigning to oblivion, or live only in memory as the hero of the day and the petty tyrant of Baltimore. Like the last, ugly and venomous, but with a precious jewel upon his head, his speeches are consistent with the character of his mind.

You will pardon me, therefore, if I decline to review that which he uttered here, which I find correctly reported, not only in the columns of the Convention papers, but only to say that in numbers, in character, in dignity, and in ability, it was fully adequate to the occasion for which it assembled. I do not exaggerate—may, scarce ever do justice to that body of men which assembled here on the 29th of August, 1864.

He must be an able man who would undertake, singly and alone, to review the action of that Convention, especially if he professes to belong to the party which it represented. The Convention was emphatically not only peaceable, but a peaceful Convention. It was not only peaceable, but a peaceful Convention.

I have not here to say of a Convention of the States, to restore peace to the land upon the basis of a Federal Union of the States. This is its proclamation. It was a Union Convention, and it declared unswerving fidelity to that Union. The four proclamations of Abraham Lincoln, urging you to free thanks in every variety of language, and addressed to every body, except to all whom it omitted [laughter]—I believe that it omitted [laughter]—have not struck an answering chord in the people.

I have not here to say of a Convention of the States, to restore peace to the land upon the basis of a Federal Union of the States. This is its proclamation. It was a Union Convention, and it declared unswerving fidelity to that Union.

meantime, the maintenance of the Constitution as it is. That is the reason why he has been so persecuted by Abolition rebels and disunionists; but it is the proud boast of himself and his friends that, in spite of all this abuse and calumny, he has calmly and steadfastly pursued his policy.

And that day of triumph came to him on the 31st day of August, and will be renewed more gloriously on the 8th of November next. Such were the friends in which I spoke then of the gentleman who is now the candidate of the Democratic party of the United States for the Presidency.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

Administration should invade it, and drag you to a battle, there to remain at the pleasure of Abraham Lincoln. If you would have these things four years longer, have your currency and your country and yourselves ruined—vote for Abraham Lincoln.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

friend you will be wounded unto death. Be entreated in time, then. Look to your interests if you do not love your country.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

vention of the States. If the Democrats be really united, if they have truly made up their minds to hold together in support of their candidate, their candidate is certain to obtain a majority of the electoral vote, and to be the legal President of the United States.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

whether in the matter of secession? Davis's will, if nothing else, ought to rebuke into silence their slimy tongues, so prolific of treacherous cant.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

I have confined myself, men of Dayton, to the questions of the Convention, the platform, and the candidates—displaying briefly the reasons which should induce you to support the nomination made at Chicago, especially as against Abraham Lincoln who demands re-election.

Selections.

FORESHADOWING OF EVENTS.

The following is an extract of a letter to the London Times, written by its correspondent in New York, about three weeks previous to the Chicago Convention.

It is at this crisis that the pleasant hostility on the Canadian side of the Niagara has become the centre of negotiations which promise the withdrawal of the differences between the North and South from the arbitrament of the sword.

I am not here to say of a Convention of the States, to restore peace to the land upon the basis of a Federal Union of the States. This is its proclamation. It was a Union Convention, and it declared unswerving fidelity to that Union.

I am not here to say of a Convention of the States, to restore peace to the land upon the basis of a Federal Union of the States. This is its proclamation. It was a Union Convention, and it declared unswerving fidelity to that Union.

I am not here to say of a Convention of the States, to restore peace to the land upon the basis of a Federal Union of the States. This is its proclamation. It was a Union Convention, and it declared unswerving fidelity to that Union.

THE RIGHTS OF COLORED SOLDIERS.

LETTER OF GEN. BUTLER TO THE REBEL COMMISSIONERS OF EXCHANGE.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF VIRGINIA AND NORTH CAROLINA, IN THE FIELD, August 18, 1864.

Hon. ROBERT OULDS, Commissioner of Exchange:

SIR: Your note to Major Mulford, Assistant Agent of Exchange, under the date of 17th of August, has been referred to me. You therein state that Major Mulford has several times proposed to exchange prisoners respectively held by the two belligerents, officer for officer and man for man, and that the offer has also been made by other officials having charge of matters connected with the exchange of prisoners.

A TRAITOR'S CONFESSION.

"We seceded to rid ourselves of the rule of the majority."—Jefferson Davis to Col. Jaynes.

Write that in characters of living light. Would that it might be engraven in the broad heavens, that the world might read and reflect: It is the death-bed confession of the rebellion. It is the trembling assassin revealing his guilt on the threshold of eternity, when no earthly terrors suppress it, and a desire to lighten the burdens of his heart compels it.

"We seceded to rid ourselves of the rule of the majority."—Jefferson Davis to Col. Jaynes. Write that in characters of living light. Would that it might be engraven in the broad heavens, that the world might read and reflect: It is the death-bed confession of the rebellion.

By the advertisements in your newspapers, calling upon masters to come forward and claim their property...

But this post liminary right under which you claim to act, and which is defined by all writers on national law...

You must be aware that there is still a proclamation by Jefferson Davis, claiming to be Chief Executive of the Confederate States...

True, it is, I believe, that the Romans attempted to apply it to the case of slaves, and for two thousand years no other nation has attempted to set up...

These declarations on the part of those whom you represent yet remain unrepented, unannulled, unrevoked, and must therefore be still supposed to be authoritative...

I unite with you most cordially, sir, in desiring a speedy settlement of all these questions, in view of the great suffering endured by our prisoners in the hands of your authorities...

If this be so, and you are so willing to exchange these colored men claimed as slaves, and you will so officially inform the government of the United States...

With this consolidated power—the Slave Power North and South—the friends of law and liberty, of free institutions and a republican form of government...

In the view which the government of the United States takes of the claim made by you to the persons and services of these negroes, it is not to be supported upon any principle of national or municipal law...

With this consolidated power—the Slave Power North and South—the friends of law and liberty, of free institutions and a republican form of government...

Looking upon these men only as property, upon your theory of property in them, we do not see how the claim can be made, certainly not how it can be yielded...

There is a course which may be taken, in this eventful crisis, which we have a confident belief would lead to a glorious victory, and which we are certain is the right and heaven-approved one...

If the United States capture any movable property in the rebellion, by our regulations and laws, in conformity with the international law and the laws of war...

There was great enthusiasm in the meeting from beginning to end. The chief manifestations of it were called out by the name of McClellan, which was warmly applauded...

Slaves being captured by us, and the right of property in them thereby vested in us, that right of property has been disposed of by us by manumitting them, as has always been the acknowledged right of the owner to do to his slave...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

If, therefore, the principles of international law and the laws of war used in this discussion are correctly stated, then it would seem that the deduction logically flows therefrom, in natural sequence...

"A MILITARY ADVENTURER"
The Richmond Dispatch of June, 1862, said:
In the early part of this war, General McClellan wrote to a distinguished officer in the South...

Do the Confederate authorities claim the right to reduce to a state of slavery free men, prisoners of war captured by them? This claim rests upon the fact that they have fought against Union and Decatur, when set up by the Barbary powers on the northern shore of Africa...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

Or, in other words, you claim that by the laws of nations and of war, when property of the subjects of one belligerent power, captured by the forces of the other belligerent, is recaptured by the arms of the former owner, then such property is to be restored to its prior possessor...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

The Liberator. No Union with Slaveholders!

BOSTON, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1864.

THE CONFLICT, AND ITS CHARACTER.

The patriotic American who takes a general survey of his country at the present time, will be scarcely less interested in the conflict which is waging at the North, than in that which is saturating with human blood the battle-fields of the South...

With this consolidated power—the Slave Power North and South—the friends of law and liberty, of free institutions and a republican form of government, have during this crisis, to contend. It is a power formidable in its proportions...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

At a banquet recently given by the Master Cutlers of Sheffield, England, speeches were made by Mr. J. A. Roebuck, the representative of the town, and Sir Frank Crossley, Bart., one of the members for the county...

THE MOCLELLAN MEETING.

The people who call themselves "the Democracy" of Boston and vicinity held a meeting in Panell Hall last Saturday evening, to aid the election of George B. McClellan to the Presidency...

The President of the meeting was Mr. Joseph S. Fay, and the principal speaker was Judge Abbott, one of the delegates to the Chicago Convention...

Some resolutions proposed for the occasion were read by Col. Greene, Editor of the Post. The first resolves President Lincoln and his Cabinet...

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

ENGLISH SENTIMENT ON THE AMERICAN QUESTION.

MR. DEAR SIR—I cannot refrain from writing you a few lines of sincere congratulation and earnest sympathy. Our esteemed mutual friend, GEORGE THOMPSON, will be able to tell you that I have long been one of your ardent admirers and humble followers in the great cause of universal freedom...

Most intensely and affectionately I have watched your career; noted your heroic labors and sacrifices; and exulted in all the noble triumphs and glorious conquests you have been privileged to realize...

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

so, so far as it went, and so far as the North honestly accepted and adhered to it. It was seen by many that such an issue—if the contest was prolonged, and the question, eventually, and lead to the extinction of slavery, root and branch, in all the States...

I hope you will continue to do your best to convince the people of America, that this is the real attitude of the people of England—whatever the London Times, Mr. J. A. Roebuck, or the Southern sympathizers who have invested in Confederate cotton loans and blockade-runners, may say to the contrary...

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

Resolved, "That the present deplorable civil war is fatal to the Union and the Constitution, and therefore it is the highest duty of the people to preserve the Government, and maintain its integrity in this contest, by all means in their power..."

MERRITT SMITH ON McCLELLAN'S NOMINATION AND ACCEPTANCE.

I write these pages for the candid. Partisans would not hear me; they follow party. Those only will hear who follow truth; and who will still follow it at whatever expense to party.

Herein, and herein only, is the explanation of the outbreak of the Rebellion. Could she but have been brought to recede from her determination to set up a nation for herself and by herself, all other difficulties with the South might have been adjusted.

LETTER FROM HENRY C. WRIGHT.

LAKE ST. MARY, Mich., Sept. 11, 1864. W. L. GARRISON: MY FRIEND,—I am once more in the cottage-home of Henry Willis, on the shore of one of the most beautiful lakes I ever saw.

Democracy hangs the last and only hope of the rebels and their European allies. Peace, in the mouths of Democrats, means the absolute and hopeless subjugation of freedom to slavery, of free labor to slave labor, of free society and free institutions to slave society and slave institutions, over the nation and the continent.

It is computed that fifty or seventy-five thousand aliens and rebels from the South will be present in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Iowa, to aid in defeating Lincoln at the ballot in November.

PARKER FRATERNITY LECTURES. AT MUSIC HALL. ORGAN CONCERT each Evening at 7 o'clock. W. ROBERT TRAYLOR, Organist.

Poetry.

THE TWO SLAVES.

I knew a man who thought that he was free: No law controlled him save the statute clasp...

Selections.

A TALK WITH ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

At a time when thousands of honest, earnest men are in painful doubt concerning the fitness of our President to resume his office for another term...

publicly. It will be most valuable in inciting our young men to that patient classical and mathematical culture which most minds absolutely require.

of the institution, it is enough to know that in every Southern town there is a slave-prison and a slave-whipper. As Mr. Conway explains, ladies and gentlemen, as a rule, do not soil their own hands with the lash.

car visits nearly every hamlet and every considerable town. The music of his whistles is heard on the hillsides of the mountains, and in the proximity of the thundering locomotive, rattling and sighing under its fiery spirit, disturbs the equanimity of the anxious motorist, careful for the safety of his child.

wards of merit or honorable mention, not even weak as to fall below the equal protection of the law. The church or bishop asks to impose creed or ritual on one so lofty as to challenge their right to do so.

A SLEEPING CHILD.

Art thou a thing of mortal birth? These happy hours in the earth? Does human blood with life imbue...

NEW WORK BY MONOURE D. CONWAY.

The following notice of a volume recently published in England, from the pen of M. D. Conway, and entitled "Testimonies on the Subject of Slavery," is extracted from the London Star.

GOV. ANDREW'S ADDRESS.

The great New England Agricultural Fair at Springfield was held last week. The great feature of the occasion was the address of His Excellency Gov. Andrew, which was delivered to a crowded audience.

GOV. ANDREW'S ADDRESS.

I hail this becoming and beneficent gathering of the most intelligent yeomanry of New England. Here we touch our mother earth, while we join our friendly hands together in the spirit of a free dedication of our powers and hopes...

GOV. ANDREW'S ADDRESS.

I do not intend, even in a characteristic assemblage of her own people, to laud or magnify New England. I would not praise her for her greatness, but to show to the full, and use the facts to her credit...

GOV. ANDREW'S ADDRESS.

It was too long to go over the particular details which bearing doth minister to all the duties of the mind; sometimes parsing the ill-effects sometimes opening the obstructions, sometimes helping digestion, sometimes increasing appetite...